

FOOD FOR THOUGHT 10:

A NATION GONE BLIND AND THE STATE OF THE 9/11 TRUTH MOVEMENT:

KEVIN BARRETT INTERVIEWS ERIC LARSEN ON NBR, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 2006.

A Note to the Listener:

Kevin Barrett, who sits in here for Jim Fetzer as host of “Non-Random Thoughts,” has lately become one of the 9/11 Truth Movements best known and best liked—and, hands down, funniest—Of 9/11 truth-tellers and activists. I wrote about him in <http://www.ericlarsen.net/foodforthought2.html> “Food for Thought 3: Bill O'Reilly Makes a Death Threat. . .”and I’ve had the even greater good fortune of being a prepublication reader of his forthcoming book, <http://www.waronfreedom.org/press/larsen.html> Truth Jihad, a work destined to bewitch thousands with its energy, charm, insight, cocky humility (yes, that’s a real and possible combination if you’re a Kevin Barrett), a book that’s part autobiography, part scholarship, part political analysis, part theological appreciation and study—and, overall, an extraordinary, plain, jesting and yet at the same time deadly earnest plea for the wellbeing and future of mankind, these being things possible only if the facts of the 9/11 crimes of treason and murder can be exposed and those responsible for them tried and punished—there being no other way to finding any reliable, wholesome, and curative aid for our now abused, molested, and all but wholly benighted people and nation.

That might all sound like a bunch of fancy talk, but it’s sure not intended as such. Just listen for a while to Kevin (who was good enough to invite me onto the show) and you’ll begin to understand at least a good part of what I mean by the seriousness of what now faces our nation—and what our nation now faces. I’m flattered, pleased, and grateful to have been able to spend these couple of hours with Kevin, and I hope—and I even dare suspect—that our time together may have helped do some good.

My gratitude to all. Keep reading. Keep writing. Keep tuned. Listen to Kevin and others of his stature, integrity, and drive. And in time, with luck and the effort of us all, we’ll find that we can have a nation again, the free republic that for the moment is lost <http://www.ericlarsen.net/foodforthought9.html> but that mustn’t, no matter what, ever be let go for good.

EL

October 25, 2006

Click here to listen on Real Player:

http://mp3.rbnlive.com/Fetzer/0610/20061021_Sat_Fetzer.ram

Click here to listen on Windows Media player or iTunes:

http://mp3.rbnlive.com/Fetzer/0610/20061021_Sat_Fetzer1.mp3